QUESTION 5

Scenario: A user opens a session to Server A to use a word processing application at 18:00. After 45 minutes of working with the word processing application, the user then launches an email client application, which opens a new session on Server B. Upon review of the environment, the administrator confirms that both applications are published with the same parameters for audio, screen size, color resolution and encryption.

Which three possible reasons could have prevented Session Sharing from occurring? (Choose three.)

- A. The email client application is NOT installed on Server A.
- B. The email client application is only published from Server B.
- C. The number of instances of the email client application that can be run is limited.
- D. Server A is reporting a full load, preventing the email client application from launching.
- E. Server A and Server B are in different vLANs; the vLAN of Server B has more capacity than the vLAN of Server A.

Correct Answer: ABD
