QUESTION 1

Many criminal-law statutes permit more severe punishment of a person convicted of a crime if he or she intended to harm another person. For example, voluntary manslaughter carries a heavier penalty than involuntary manslaughter in most states. Planned crimes are also punished more severely than spur-of-the-moment crimes. The problem is that juries find it difficult to know what the intent of a person was at the time he or she committed a crime. Many defendants will deny that they intended to harm the other person and claim that any harm that occurred was "accidental." The law asks too much of juries when it expects them to determine what a person was thinking. Juries should only be asked to weigh objective evidence.

According to this passage, _____.

- A. most states don't distinguish between voluntary and involuntary manslaughter
- B. punishing people more severely for voluntary manslaughter is unconstitutional
- C. it's difficult for juries to determine a defendant's intentions at the time a crime was committed
- D. prosecutors can, through careful questioning, show a defendant's intention at the time a crime was committed

Correct Answer: C

Explanation:

The passage says that most states punish voluntary manslaughter more severely than involuntary manslaughter, so Choice "most states don't distinguish between voluntary and involuntary manslaughter" is incorrect.

The argument that punishing people more severely for voluntary manslaughter is unconstitutional isn't made in the passage, so Choice "punishing people more severely for voluntary manslaughter is unconstitutional" is incorrect.

The passage doesn't support Choice "prosecutors can, through careful questioning, show a defendant's intention at the time a crime was committed".

QUESTION 2

The new Army Service Uniform or ASU is a hybrid that combines elements of the green Class A and B uniforms and the dress blue uniform. Many of the policies governing the green uniform have been integrated with or adapted to the blue uniform, now known as the ASU. The ASU replaces the green Army Class A and B uniforms

What uniform change is happening?

- A. The Army is changing its Class A uniform from green to blue.
- B. The Army is changing its Class A uniform from blue to green.
- C. The Army is changing its combat uniform.

D. The Army is governing the elements of its uniform policies.

Correct Answer: A

Explanation:

The passage states that the blue uniform is now known as the Army Service Uniform or ASU, which replaces the green Class A and B uniforms.

QUESTION 3

Comparable to the decline of the great Mayan culture, the fall of the ancient Indus Valley people yields interesting information about their daily lives. It seems that this civilization is the oldest recorded civilization in India, yet many of their practices seem advanced. For example, there is evidence of careful and creative design of bathroom facilities, including sewage disposal. What is evident in other ancient societies seems to be missing from the Indus Valley one, namely social conflict, slavery, armed forces, and various vices. The cause of their sudden demise is a mystery.

According to the above passage, what is the oldest known civilization of India?

- A. Mayan people
- B. Afghanistan people
- C. Indus Valley people
- D. Aztec people

Correct Answer: C

QUESTION 4

My cousin has an interesting job. He contacts museums, organizers of cultural events, and performing arts companies in San Francisco about interesting activities they are planning. Then he does all sorts of promotions for these activities for visitors to the city. He has a background in hospitality and tourism and is very good at multi-tasking. These things really help! Another part of his job is to create ads, including those for billboards, magazines, and Web sites in other cities.

From the above passage, the reader can infer that the cousin's job title is most likely _____.

- A. Director of Travel Marketing
- B. Director of a San Francisco outdoor advertising company
- C. Director of San Francisco's Art Museum
- D. Director of San Francisco's Art Gallery

Correct Answer: A

QUESTION 5

To write or not to write – that is the question. If assigned a writing task, there's no option. However, if someone is looking for a specific answer, find out if they need a short answer or a detailed one. Can the requirement be met with a telephone call, e-mail, or short note, or is something more necessary? A former CEO of a major corporation once commented that he had looked at 13,000 pieces of paper in a 5-day period. Think how much easier and more economical it would be if people would use the telephone, send an e-mail, or write a short note.

The main point of this passage is _____.

- A. Written records are important as they provide detailed documentation.
- B. More business people should invest time and energy improving their writing skills.
- C. Writing may not be the best way to communicate information.
- D. It's pointless for business people to spend time improving their writing skills.

Correct Answer: C

Explanation:

Choices "Written records are important as they provide detailed documentation." and "More business people should invest time and energy improving their writing skills." may be true in certain situations, but they're not the point of this particular paragraph.

The passage doesn't say anything about working to improve writing skills being a waste of time, so Choice "It's pointless for business people to spend time improving their writing skills" is incorrect.

The main point of the paragraph is that writing may not be the most efficient way of communicating, depending on the situation.
