QUESTION 1

You are the business analyst for a large project in your organization. While your company prefers face-to-face communications there are many stakeholders located in different geographical locations.

How can you still effectively serve as a business analyst when the stakeholders are not collocated?

- A. You will need to travel on a regular rotation to each of the geographical locations to complete the business analyst duties.
- B. You will need to implement videoconferences.
- C. Add more business analysts in each of the geographical location.
- D. You will need the stakeholders to periodically gather in one locale.

Correct Answer: B

QUESTION 2

A business analyst (BA) finds that the solution service level agreement (SLA) cannot be met in one out of five identified scenarios, as there is a dependency on a requirement which is a part of a future release. How should the BA approach the solution limitation?

- A. Modify the SLA
- B. Change the business process
- C. Increase the scope and include the dependent requirement
- D. Assess the impact on the business operations

Correct Answer: C

QUESTION 3

The solution presented by a business analyst (BA) to the stakeholders eliminated the need to maintain different variations of ship-to-country and location-to-route for various freight carriers. Instead, the routing would use a standard carrier code, giving the business the flexibility to just ship to new countries without raising a change request to IT which was the current road-block to business. What opportunity did the BA present to the stakeholders?

- A. Increase efficiencies
- B. Increase access to information
- C. Decrease stakeholder involvement
- D. Decrease project timeline

Correct Answer: A

QUESTION 4
