QUESTION 1

The historian's assertion that there is a _____ of verifiable information about nineteenth-century Native Americans is _____, for there exist many transcripts of authentic oral accounts of their activities.

- A. wealth; fallacious
- B. shortage; legitimate
- C. depletion; irrefutable
- D. paucity; erroneous
- E. surfeit; implausible

Correct Answer: D

The second part of the sentence says that there exist many transcripts of genuine accounts of the activities of Native Americans. So, the first part must mean either that the historian correctly asserted that there is a lot of verifiable information, or that he wrongly asserted that there is little of verifiable information. Among the choices, it is "paucity; erroneous" which means the latter, and is the answer.

QUESTION 2

The movie avoids many of the _____ novel, bringing into sharper focus characters that originally were amiable or disagreeable _____.

- A. subtleties; monsters
- B. excellencies; stereotypes
- C. allusions; individuals
- D. particulars; nonentities
- E. shortcomings; blur

Correct Answer: E

If the movie had brought the characters in the novel to a sharper focus, those characters must have been portrayed with less sharpness in the novel. Among the choices, it is "stereotypes" and "blurs" which have this meaning. But "stereotypes" cannot be described as excellence of a novel. So, "excellencies" can also be ruled out.

The pair "shortcomings; blur" completes a meaningful sentence, and is the answer.

QUESTION 3

What is the topic of this passage?

Eric and Billy purchased new bikes to use when they went off to college. Given the rising cost of gas, they felt the purchase was justified and reasoned that, living on campus, they would not require cars. Their mother, however, felt that a car should be shared between them, and presented them with a car as a gift. Following this gift, Eric and Billy returned one bike and determined that they could share both a car and a bike, reasoning that some gas savings was better than nothing.

- A. the advantages of public transportation over personal vehicles
- B. Billy and Eric's mother
- C. Eric and Billy's decisions regarding transportation leading up to college
- D. how to successfully complete the first year of college

Correct Answer: C
